

Alive in Arkansas.

The People's party convention which met in Little Rock June 21 was the first of the kind ever held in the state, and forty-five counties were represented. Leading citizens who have been heretofore identified with the Democratic party were enthusiastic delegates. They have become tired of the treachery of the Democracy in congress and will have none of Mr. Cleveland, the candidate of Wall street.

"An effort is being made to thrust Cleveland down the throat of the south," said one speaker, "and the south protested against his nomination. She should repudiate him at the polls next November and vote for the presidential nominee of the People's party."

"The Democratic party is rushing to destruction," cried another orator. "Cleveland will prove its Old Man of the Sea. The only thing for true Democrats to do is to vote with the People's party."

The Conspiracy of Knavery.

President McDowell, of the Tennessee State Alliance, has entered suit against the Nashville American for criminal libel. Nine of the ablest lawyers of the Nashville bar have volunteered to defend The American, which seems to indicate that there is a conspiracy to do everything possible to destroy Brother McDowell's influence with the farmers and workmen of the state. The plutocratic press has gone too far in a great many instances in their abuse of Alliance leaders, and we think that a few suits for libel would have a good effect.—Columbia (S. C.) Cotton Plant.
